ALEXANDER BANK AGAIN BROUGHT INTO LIMELIGHT.

Commissioners Sue Louisville
and Cincinnati Banks
For Notes.

HIS STATEMENT.

Depositors Hold Second Meeting and Perfect Plans
For Action.

Thomas J. Smith, of Frankfort, State Banking Commissioner, and Buckner Woodford, of Paris, Special Deputy Banking Commissioner, who are winding up the affairs of the bank of George Alexander & Company, State Bank, of Paris, filed suit in the Jefferson Circuit Court Thursday against the American National Bank, of Louisville, to secure the return of notes aggregating $35,211.17, held as collateral by the defendant to secure a loan of $33,000 made to the defunct Paris bank July 1, 1907. The plaintiffs ask that if the notes can not be had, that they be given judgment for their value and damages, no sum being specified.

It is alleged that at the time the Alexander bank suspended it had on deposit with the American National Bank $10,837.45, which the plaintiffs claim should be in their hands. It is claimed a check for the amount was drawn in favor of J. J. Williams, attorney for the plaintiffs, but that payment at the American National Bank was refused.

It is also alleged that Attorney Williams made demand on the bank for the return of the notes, or the proceeds that might have been realized on any of them, and that this demand also was refused.

The plaintiffs claim that the highest amount of indebtedness or liability which George Alexander & Co., under its articles of incorporation might incur, is $10,000, and that it was not empowered to become indebted to any person or corporation in excess of that amount. It is alleged that at the time the loan was made by the American National Bank, the Alexander bank was already involved in a sum in excess of that under the conditions, the defendant loan to the Alexander bank, and that the notes are void. Plaintiffs claim it is necessary to secure the assets held by the American National Bank in order to satisfy all creditors of the Paris institution.

The bank of George Alexander & Co., of Paris, was placed in the hands of State Banking Commissioner Thos. J. Smith, May 19, 1914, and since then it has been under the personal supervision of Buckner Woodford, appointed by Commissioner Smith to wind up its affairs, and Judge John M. Lassing, of Newport, and J. J. Williams, of Paris, attorneys for the Deputy Commissioner, and the depositors. The former president is now under more than thirty indictments and is at liberty on bond of $50,500 awaiting trial at the next term of the Bourbon Circuit Court at Paris in the fall.

Alleging that the George Alexander & Company Bank, of Paris, and its president, George Alexander, had no authority, under the bank's charter, to borrow $35,000 from the Fifth-Third National Bank, of Cincinnati, and give as collateral promissory notes aggregating $56,000, suit was instituted in the United States District Court by Thomas J. Smith, Banking Commissioner, and Buckner Woodford, Special Deputy Banking Commissioner of Kentucky, against the Fifth-Third National Bank, of Cincinnati, to recover the collateral or its money value. Judgment for $56,000 is asked.

In the petition it is alleged that on January 22, 1914, the Alexander bank borrowed $10,000 from the Fifth-Third of Cincinnati, giving its note for $10,000, payable in four months; that on March 2, 1914, it borrowed $15,000 more on a note payable in four months and that on May 5, it executed another note for $10,000, payable in sixty days. Each of these notes, the plaintiffs claim, was signed by the bank, "per George Alexander, President," and the notes were assigned the Fifth-Third as security for the $35,000 borrowed.

A second meeting of the depositors of the George Alexander & Company Bank, was held Friday afternoon at the Catholic Club room on High Street. The depositors present were addressed by Judge John M. Lassing, of Covington, and Attorney John J. Williams, of Paris, both of whom have been appointed by State Banking Commissioner Thomas J. Smith, to look after the interests of the creditors. Judge Lassing stated that he felt confident the depositors would receive a good sized share of their deposits, as there will probably be about $240,000 for distribution among them, if the litigation involved is successful. This amount includes $180,000 in cash and collectable paper,

SUNDAY HOTTEST DAY OF PRESENT TORRID SPELL.

Sunday, according to both tagible and intangible evidence, may go down in local history as the hottest and most uncomfortable day of the year. Thermometers all over the city registered from 98 to 104, and many of them showed 106. All over the city there was evidence of the effect of the intense heat. Man and beast alike sought relief from the blistering, scorching rays of Old Sol. In the afternoon the situation was somewhat relieved by a light breeze which sprang up. Later in the day clouds began to bank in the sky and a light rain, lasting perhaps fifteen minutes, fell giving promise of developing into a real shower, but the relief it afforded was but slight. Afterward the heat was intense and the humidity made life almost unbearable.

Drought conditions throughout this county are about the same, no rain having fallen to afford relief.

If rains do not come soon the whole country will be baked to a crisp. Green garden stuff has become a mere dream—the owner of a patch that has produced a few real vegetables ought to have it photographed and preserved as a relic.

DROUGHT DAMAGES CROPS.

The damage wrought to crops in this county by the continued drought can hardly be estimated in dollars and cents. The little rain that has fallen has not been of any considerable benefit, and nothing short of a steady rain of several days will rejuvenate the withering vegetation and replenish the vanishing water supplies of the farmers throughout the county.

The hemp crop is badly damaged and the other crops are said to be cut to almost nothing by the lack of needed moisture. Corn is standing the drought better than any other crop, but shows a most distinct need of rain. Farmers are continuing to cultivate their corn, hoping the shallow plowing may be beneficial.

The drought is also telling on the tobacco crop, and the prospects for a good crop of the commodity are becoming daily more discouraging. Reports from all sections of the county tell the same story. Gardens and pastures are drying up, actually and literally, and oats, potatoes and blackberries are suffering, as well as all other things in the vegetable and animal kingdoms.

There is no immediate danger of the water supply of Paris becoming curtailed as a result of the drought. There is a good stage of water in Stoner Creek, from which the city's supply is drawn, and unless this supply is cut down by a prolongation of the dry spell, all is well. There are a number of narrow places in the creek where the channel should be widened and deepened, so as to promote a steady flow of water to the pumping station. Boating will be seriously interfered with if the present low water continues, as some of the channels of the creek will be impassible.

AN EXCITING TIME!

A wonderful picture full of exciting scenes—The Million Dollar Mystery at The Columbia Theatre to-morrow.

$25,000 more which may be collected, and about $35,000 for which the Banking Commissioner is suing to recover from Louisville and Cincinnati banks. There can be no absolute certainty at this, however, and the business will not be settled for some time.

The work of appraising the personal property of George Alexander, late President of the defunct Alexander & Co. State Bank, having been completed by the appraisers, Jos. M. Hall, S. E. Bedford and William Shire, the report of the assignee, Mr. W. O. Hinton, was filed in the office of County Clerk Pearce Paton, Friday afternoon.

An appraised value slightly exceeding $12,000 was placed on 400 items of personal property, among which the most valuable items are—a residence valued at $14,000, an automobile valued at $2,500, 500 shares of Citizens' Life Insurance stock, of the value of $2,600, and stock in the Fifth-Third National Bank of Cincinnati, $2,035. Values ranging from 50c to $275, were placed on several other items.

Other stocks whose actual value was not determined, were also listed in the report.

When the work of appraising the diamonds and other jewels was taken up a report, filed by Mrs. Alexander, was received, in which she claimed a number of jewels as her personal property, and Mr. Alexander also claimed exemption for a number of diamonds and other jewels, alleging that they came under the head of "wearing apparel." A vigorous protest against accepting the report of the appraisers was made, and exceptions will be filed in behalf of a number of Mr. Alexander's personal creditors by an attorney.

RELIGIOUS.

Services were held at the Presbyterian Church Sunday morning by Rev. Dr. B. M. Shive. No services were held at night, in order that the congregation could attend the tent meeting being held at Hopewell, at which the local choir rendered an appropriate musical program.

Rev. W. E. Ellis, pastor of the Christian Church, was unable to fill his pulpit Sunday on account of illness, and the communion service was conducted by W. O. Hinton, one of the elders of the congregation. There was no evening service.

Rev. T. H. Atkinson, the evangelist of the Ebenezer Presbyterian, is conducting an interesting tent meeting at the Hopewell Presbyterian Church. On Sunday morning he took for his subject, "The Sure Foundation." At the Mens' Meeting in the afternoon he preached on the subject, "The Most Damning Sin of All." During the week Rev. Atkinson will sing and speak at each nightly meeting.

MATRIMONIAL.

EARLYWINE—SOSBY.

Mr. Willie Sosby and Miss Myrtle Earlywine, both of the Riddles Mills neighborhood, obtained a marriage license Saturday from County Clerk Pearce Paton, and the ceremony was performed by the Rev. J. T. Sharrard.

Renick, aged 22, son of Mr. Morris Renick, of Middletown, Ohio, formerly of Paris, and Miss Elizabeth Hardin, aged 20, of Franklin, Ohio. The bride is a daughter of State Representative Harding, of Franklin, O. The couple were united in marriage at the home of the officiating minister, Rev. Hugh Leith, 155 East Third Street, in Covington. Following the ceremony the young couple left for Middletown, O., where they will spend their honeymoon the guests of Mr. Renick's father, Mr. Morris Renick.

C. M. THOMAS ADDRESSES LARGE AUDIENCE AT LEXINGTON

Hon. Claude M. Thomas, of Paris, addressed a big and enthusiastic audience in the county court room of the Lexington court house yesterday, in the interest of his candidacy for Congress from the Seventh district.

It was county court day in Lexington, and the city was crowded with farmers a large majority of whom attended the speaking. Mr. Thomas was in fine form and made a splendid speech, which was received with frequent outbursts of applause by the enthusiastic hearers.

A big delegation of Mr. Thomas' friends and supporters from Paris and North Middletown, was in the audience.

The Paris delegation was headed by Mayor John T. Hinton and Judge E. B. January.

There were a number of ladies in the audience, who were as enthusiastic as the male portion of the big crowd, and they gave applause to the speaker's remarks.

Mr. Thomas devoted a large portion of his address to comments and criticisms of the official acts of his competitor, Mr. Cantrell, who, he said, had misrepresented him ever since the Congressional campaign opened up a month ago.

The Fayette Thomas Club, of Lexington, attended the speaking in a body, and they made things lively all through the meeting.

It was an almost universal expression of opinion that Mr. Thomas made a splendid impression, and on all sides it was predicted that he would receive a substantial majority in Fayette County.

THEATRICAL.

THE PARIS GRAND.

The Paris Grand to-night, Tuesday, June 14, will present an attractive program of music, mirth and mystery. There will be 2 masterful photoplays—"Strongheart," a remarkable picture portrayal of one of America's greatest dramatic successes, in three parts, "Love, Luck and Gasoline," featuring Little Lulu, Walker, Van (Cutie) and John Bunny; the merriest comedy of the age, and the world's record speed comedy. Gregg's Imperial Orchestra, in a select program of popular and up-to-date melodies. As an extra attraction will be the first appearance in this city of Mr. A. R. Johns, the hypnotist, who will give an intelligent demonstration of the hypnotic power with a pleasing absence of the buffoonry so often seen in exhibitions of this character. Reserved seats may be secured at the box office of the Alamo Theatre. One performance only, beginning promptly at 8:00 p. m. (adv)

NO PAPER CAN GET ALL THE NEWS ALL THE TIME

No, we can't tell it all. No paper ever did, or ever will. It matters little how particular we are, we are bound to find each issue, after the paper goes to press, that we have missed a story or two. We would publish all the news all the time, however, if the people were half so particular to see that we knew about their goings, comings or doings as they are in noting whether or not it appears in print. We want all the news, and will appreciate any help extended to us in this direction.

FIRE DESTROYS THRESHING OUTFIT AND WHEAT.

A flying spark from an engine belonging to a threshing outfit operated by Mr. Bishop Hilber, on the Burke & Brent farm, on the Maysville pike started a fire yesterday afternoon which destroyed the separator and supply cart, and a wagon loaded with wheat. The fire caused a loss estimated at about $2,000.

The fire communicated to the wheat stubble and was only extinguished by hard efforts on the part of the harvest hands.

ANNOUNCEMENTS.

We are authorized to announce Hon. C. M. Thomas as a candidate for the Democratic nomination for Congressman at the August primary, to be held in this county on Saturday, August 1, 1914.

YOU DID IT!

Who started the vile lie upon its way?

Why, you did! You heartless assassin of reputations! You chanced upon the sweet morsel of untruth. You rolled it around under your tongue, cunningly embellished it and then passed it on to some wretch as heartless and depraved as yourself, who added a quota of lies and dealt it out to an ever widening circle of thoughtless fools who did their duty as they saw it. You muck-raker! You creature of the slime, you were the very center of this concentric circles of slander that have widened and enlarged until they have reached remote cities and towns.

Why did you do it? This is why. Because you are a favorite child of the Devil, a Prince of Liars, and you wish to convince people that others are just as bad as you. Had you not passed that lie on, you would have choked. If you had not retouched it and colored it, you would have died of jaundice.

You are a member of the church and you are always ready to fly into the face of anyone who says aught against your blessed belief, but the spirit of Christ has never entered your heart nor the sermon on the Mount addressed itself to your understanding.

If your remarks could have been confined to those who know you they would not have hurt so much, for what you say about your acquaintances cannot be worse than what your own family says about you. But remarks cannot be confined to circumscribed limits.

A young girl takes a position as a stenographer. Who smirched her reputation? You, you harpy! If you did not do it with a blatant lie you did it with a shrug of the shoulder or a toss of the head. Why did you do it? She is better than you. She is self-sustaining, independent, clear eyed, thoughtful, chaste. And you? You are a slattern evil-minded shrew, dependent upon some one—gallused ignoramus for your virtuous and clothes.

A man and his wife had a quarrel. Married people who do not quarrel occasionally, have no brains, or they are so unmindful of each other that nothing matters. What did you do about it? You magnified that quarrel into a battle royal, swore that they threw dishes at each other, had separated and would be divorced. Why did you do it? Because you cannot tell the truth and also because the wretch to whom you carried the news would not have been pleased with anything so ordinary as a family quarrel. Both you and the other creature deal together in superlatives.

Lay this truth to your heart right now, before you lay down this paper; recall it every time any one attempts to tell you something harmful about any one else. A scandal-monger is always a mirror in which are reflected the faults complained of. A woman who on slight evidence condemns another woman of immorality is herself immoral. Young women who form a cabal to discuss the conduct of their friends will bear watching. A drunken man imagines the world is drunk. A dope fiend is fully persuaded everybody dopes. A liar thinks on one speaks the truth.

Reputable people of this city have been injured because liars talked about them. The reputation of the people of Paris has become a by-word and a joke in surrounding cities and towns. A perfect epidemic of gossip is flooding this community. Decent, self-respecting people did not start it. Upright people have not circulated it. A few thoughtless, but not vicious, have helped, but the great harm has been done by the vicious and vile talking about their betters. Put a stop to it.

LEAVING THINGS OUT OF THE PAPER.

The Bourbon News is a local newspaper, with several thousand readers who pay for the paper for the purpose of finding in its columns, as far as can be obtained, the happenings of the city and county, and, of course, in publishing the news, many items get in that some of our best friends dislike to see, and which we dislike to publish, and many items are left out that our friends would like to see, and which we would like to publish, but we have the public to serve, which cannot be done without treating all as near alike as possible.

We have nobody to punish or reward one above another, and to treat all fair and give the happenings as near without bias or prejudice as possible, is our aim and duty.

Our treatment of those whose names appear in the court records is so fair and impartial that we should not be requested to omit any part of the record, because to do this would be an injustice to others, besides, our subscribers would not be getting just what they pay for, and would have just grounds for complaint.

There are, however, certain violations of the law wherein social or family scandals come up, and in

MAY BUILD PLANING MILL.

An up-to-date planing mill and tobacco hoghead factory may be added to the industries of Paris if plans now well under way are successfully carried to fruition. The new enterprise is being engineered by a coterie of well-known Lexington lumber men, operating under the name of the Blue Grass Lumber Co. At a recent meeting of the City Council application was made by the promoters of the enterprise for a permit to erect a complete plant on the Bacon lot on South Main street. A property holder in the neighborhood objected to the granting of the permit, and the matter was referred to the Building Committee for action. Since the destruction of the Paris Manufacturing Co.'s plant over a year ago contractors have been forced to get their supplies from other towns, with the result that a large amount of money that would have been spent in Paris has been diverted to other places. It is hoped that objections to the location of the plant may be overcome, and that the enterprise will be in successful operation at the earliest possible time.

which the characters of women are involved, that we reserve the right to act as we think best for human character and for the good of society, but in the ordinary affairs of human conduct, a paper should not be requested to discriminate as between those charged with public offense.

While on this subject we will take occasion to say, for those charged with any character of offense, it is much better for them to be fairly mentioned in their local newspaper than not to be, for the public will find them out anyway, and will be more unjust in their criticisms than if published. It is better to publish them.

These remarks are published that the public may understand the duty and intentions of those who edit and manage newspapers, and that unreasonable requests for the suppression of certain features of news should not be made.

"DRY" TERRITORY IS NOT AFFECTED BY VOTE.

If the "wets" win in the local option election to be held in September the county outside of the city limits will remain "dry" and the licensed sale of liquor in Paris will continue.

If the "drys" win, the whole county will go "dry" and the licensed sale of liquor in Paris will be discontinued.

Many persons have asked whether the present dry precincts in the county would be effected should the county-wide vote be "wet" at the September election. It seems, after reading the statute on the question, that there can be no doubt in the matter. The statute says that territory now "dry" shall not be effected, should the county go "wet."

Section 2560, Kentucky statutes, provides, in part, that "when an election is held in an entire county, and a majority of the legal votes cast at said election are against the sale, barter or loan of spirituous, vinous, malt or other intoxicating liquor, then it shall not be lawful to sell, barter or loan any such liquor in any portion of the county."

If at such an election for the entire county the majority of the legal votes cast are in favor of the sale, barter of any such liquor, such an election shall not operate to make it legal to grant license to sell, barter or loan such liquors in any territorial division of such county from which the sale, barter or loan has been excluded by an election held under this article or by special act, but the status of such territorial division shall remain as if no election had been held.

COUNCILMEN EXPELLED.

Another chapter was written in the Georgetown councilmanic "drama" when two of the "dry" members, J. W. Thacker and Leonard J. Hambrick, were ousted from the board.

The former was accused of selling to the city $2.10 worth of groceries since holding office, and the latter of renting to the city a sprinkling wagon by which the streets have been oiled. Thacker made no defense, and Hambrick pleaded "not guilty."

Thacker had brought charges of contracting with city against three of the "wet" Councilmen, Lewis Sublett, James Fluke and James Dunn, and a vote upon their expulsion has been held up pending the decision of the Court of Appeals. John S. Gaines was appointed to fill Thacker's unexpired term. Hambrick's successor has not been named.

On account of the differences between the two factions in the Council the pay-roll for June has been held up. On a charge of contempt of court each of the four "dry" Councilmen was fined $2 by Mayor Stone, and $10 was assessed against Mr. Hambrick because of the alleged violent nature of the address made before the Council after the expulsion.

NO JURISDICTION IN CONCEALED WEAPON CASES

Police Judges and Magistrates have no jurisdiction to try persons charged with carrying concealed and deadly weapons, under the act of 1914, in the opinion of Assistant Attorney General M. M. Logan. This act adds to the penalty for the first conviction disfranchisement for two years, and he believes that in keeping with its line of decisions the Court of Appeals would hold that this added penalty would deprive the Magistrates of the power to try such cases. County Judge, under another act of 1914 have jurisdiction in all misdemeanor cases, and if this act is constitutional Mr. Logan said they will have jurisdiction to try cases of carrying concealed weapons.

ONE WAY TO KEEP "COOL"

A certain gentleman decided he would cool the atmosphere around his abode the other day by throwing cold water on the thermometer. To his great surprise it went from ninety to eighty and he took his seat upon the lawn and enjoyed the coolness, and from that time when he begins to feel the heat he immediately gives the thermometer another bath. Another good way is to keep the temperature indicator in the refrigerator.—Winchester Democrat.

LEXINGTON BANKS ASK LOAN OF $500,000.

The national banks of Lexington have sent a request to Secretary of the Treasury McAdoo for a loan of $500,000 to aid in moving the crops of Central Kentucky. This was in response to a notice issued a month ago that the Government would again consider such loans. Last year Lexington borrowed $375,000. The increased amount is asked now because of the prospects for larger crops.

STOCK AND FARM NOTES.

—Squire O.B. Lloyd, of near Hutchison, shipped twenty-three head of fat hogs, averaging 275 pounds, to the Cincinnati market Tuesday morning.

—Frank Buchanan, of Bourbon, recently sold thirty-six head of cattle to Jonas Weil, of Lexington, at $8.10 per hundred pounds. The cattle averaged 1,250.

—Robt. Meeter, of near Hutchison, recently sold 26 head of fat cattle to Jonas Weil, of Lexington, at $7.75 per hundred pounds. The cattle averaged 1,175 pounds.

—James E. Cray, who is operating a threshing machine near Hutchison, says that in the ten crops of wheat threshed by him the average will run from twenty to thirty-five bushels to the acre, and that the quality is all good. Buyers at Hutchison are paying 76 cents for the crop.

BOUND FOR THE PEN.

Two prisoners, one white and one colored both convicted at the recent term of Bourbon Circuit Court, were taken to the Frankfort State Prison, Wednesday in charge of Sheriff W. F. Talbott and Circuit Clerk Wm. H. Webb. The men were Geo. McFey, white, given an indeterminate sentence of from two to two and one-half years for safe-breaking; Dan Chinn, colored, one year for obtaining goods under false pretenses.

WOMAN WOULD NOT GIVE UP

Though Sick and Suffering; At Last Found Help in Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Richmond, Pa. — "When I started taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound I was in a dreadfully rundown state of health, had internal troubles, and was so extremely nervous and prostrated that if I had given in to my feelings I would have been in bed. As it was I had hardly strength at times to be on my feet and what I did do was by a great effort. I could not sleep at night and of course felt very bad in the morning, and had a steady headache.

"After taking the second bottle I noticed that the headache was not so bad, I rested better, and my nerves were stronger. I continued its use until it made a new woman of me, and now I can hardly realize that I am able to do so much as I do. Whenever I know any woman in need of a good medicine I highly praise Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound." — Mrs. FRANK CLARK, 3146 N. Tulip St., Richmond, Pa.

Women Have Been Telling Women for forty years how Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has restored their health when suffering with female ills. This accounts for the enormous demand for it from coast to coast. If you are troubled with any ailment peculiar to women why don't you try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound? It will pay you to do so. Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass.

BLUE LICK TO BE BOTTLED.

Blue Lick water for which Nicholas county has been famous for more than a century, flows from the well on the farm of Richard Whaley, near Meyers, at the rate of two gallons every twenty seconds.

This vein was struck a few weeks past when the Moorefield Oil & Gas Co., was sinking a well many hundred feet deep for prospects of oil. That the water is the genuine Blue Lick there is no doubt. The analysis has proven it to contain all the properties of the water that made Blue Lick renowned. It not only has the smell but the taste of the genuine, therefore the company has purchased and installed a pumping outfit and will thoroughly equip for bottling and will place it on the market.

The strength of the vein was given a test on last Thursday, when the pump was set in action at 2 o'clock and without ceasing pumped until 10 o'clock Friday morning, with no noticeable change in the depth of the water in the well.

Many of the stockholders and citizens of that community visited the well during the day Sunday and the pump was in constant use throughout the day. A general invitation had been given for people to visit there Sunday and many jugs were carried away.

ORGANDY GOWNS WITH VELVET COATEES

A SUMMER FANTASY

Tendencies In Summer Gowns and Crepe Wraps

Horse-Hair Aigrettes and The New Veils.

NEW YORK, July 12.

In the early part of the season taffeta gowns with little trimming, complicated and bizarre cuts and shapes, together with the vogue for combining colors and fabrics, made it seem that lace and embroidery were relegated to the chimney corner. But as the season advanced there has been a decided change, and lace has come into the foremost ranks of Dame Fashion's faithful guards.

Chantilly, embroidered net, and metallic laces—gold, silver and silver combined with steel—are among the newest and most popular of weaves.

The Lower Skirt Cut on a Crosswise Fold of Striped Gingham is a Suggestion of Home Dressmakers.

Some charming gowns have been made with shoulder capes and Henry IV. capes of Chantilly and embroidered net. A black cobweb lace covers a waist of cubic design, subduing the harsh, crude colors into an artistic creation.

Another frock in which lace is used in an unusual combination has a bodice of lace simply draped, while the skirt has the tunic of Chantilly with a circular velvet band at the bottom. The lower skirt is also of lace, and a velvet belt with a gorgeous velvet rose completes the costume.

After lace comes mulline, which is richly handsome in black, veiling a gown of cream colored lace, girdled by a brilliant sash.

Organdy is having a great vogue in Paris. It is used for tunics on gowns of satin, in both black and white, and is trimmed with bands of satin, and—Shades of Past Hot Summers—bands of fur!

Whole organdy dresses are worn a great deal, especially with the charming coatees of taffeta and faille silk. The very newest of these little wraps are made of black chiffon velvet. The materials of winter have invaded the summer. Will the fabrics of summer dare face winter?

Two simple but charming summer models are shown in my illustrations. The first is a dress of striped gingham and plain chambray. An entirely new note of trimming possibilities is shown in the striped gingham, with its stripes placed crosswise instead of the usually accepted method of having them go up and down. The raglan sleeves are of the stripes, while the front and back of the waist and the straight tunic are of plain tan chambray.

A silk dress is never amiss in one's wardrobe, for it will save many an hour at the ironing table, and is always ready for emergencies. In the second illustration is shown a dress of blue taffeta, with an underwaist and plaited ruffles extending across the back to the edge of the front of white crepe de Chine, stamped with a charming Pompadour design. This is a frock which may serve as a suggestion for many different ways of using materials. It would be charming ing in all one color, and would also be striking if the treatment of the materials were reversed, and the taffeta used for the ruffles and the crepe de Chine used for the front of the skirt and overwaist.

For evening wear and dancing the frocks are very plain, with long, straight bodices, which have little or no trimming upon them. The skirt is its own trimming, usually being cut in a very bouffant effect. The little fish-tail train seems to have had its day, for most of the frocks just clear the floor. Of course, here and there we see a dinner gown with a round-cut train, but even that is arranged so that it may be easily disposed of if the measure of the dance allures too strongly.

Capes are having a wonderful vogue which will undoubtedly last into the winter and be adapted to fur for the cold months. At present they are lined with brilliant and heavily brocaded linings. Soft, thickly piled materials, such as duvetyne velvet or plush, will be used with brilliant and heavily brocaded linings. Soft, thickly piled materials, such as duvetyne velvet or plush, will be used for these and will, no doubt, be as effective as the capes in the lighter-weight materials. The winter wraps will undoubtedly be closer fitting than the summer ones. The attractive summer tailored suits are being made with these cape wraps, and many dresses in such materials as heavy, course linen and pique are made with capes of the same.

A great deal of brocaded silk is being used by young and old. Evening slippers are made of the same material as the gown, or in cloth of gold or silver, one of the fabrics handsome enough to wear with these exquisite gown.

The trend of hair-dressing seems to be toward the knot at the nape of the neck, or high and close to the head, as most of the new hats are very closely fitting turbans.

Fancy ornaments, such as tiny feathers in diamond-studded mounts, are worn in the hair. These ornaments cannot fail to be most popular, as they far surpass those worn in former years.

The manufacturers are working overtime to make new feather fancies of numidi and ostrich with which to trim our hats. And our old friend Dobbin will no doubt come in for his full share of popularity.

It is a far cry from the little bird in a tropical forest, to whom we are so indebted for our aigrettes, to the stable with its shaggy maned and long-tailed horse, but from the horse in the stable comes the greater part of the wonderful imitation aigrettes, which are replacing so effectively those obtained at the expense of the bird's life. This same hair is used for the horse-hair braids and trimmings which wear so well. Beware of imitations, however, for the imitations get sticky and soon lose all luster, oftentimes getting torn if the least bit damp.

The veil worn during the spring after the model called "harem" is the forerunner of the present style. We will no longer be snugly pinned into our veils. These come in a variety of meshes, the most popular being bordered with dots or lace. For the devotee of the heavy veil, heavy laces are arranged on a light elastic, pinned around the chin and very tight in the back, the top of the veil with its elastic edging being so placed at the edge of the hat brim as to make it possible for its wearer when she wishes to eat luncheon to drop it down from the top without otherwise disarranging its adjustment.

Dr. Deojay prayed for funerals among his flock at Mariners Harbor Baptist Church, New York, the flock charged.

"Wrong," said the minister. "I'm too busy winding the clock and repairing the furnace."

When a girl has her Own Hair she is so afraid that you won't notice it that she fixes it so it will look as she had slept in it all night and parades down the street without a hat.

For the love of Mike try to act natural. Most people take themselves so seriously that other people regard them as jokes.

You may be able to convince a man that he is wrong, but you won't convince him that you are right.

A woman doesn't always stop in front of a window to look over what is displayed therein. She wants some other woman to pass her so she can get a look at the rear of the dress she is wearing.

You may have noticed that not one of the eminent foreigners who have been criticizing the American Girl has dared to say that she is Over-Dressed. Why do boys love dogs and throw rocks at cats?

It takes a mighty smart man to know how to say nothing at the right time.

PARIS SHOULD HAVE AN ELECTRICAL "WHITE WAY."

Believing that Paris should be in line with other Central Kentucky cities in the way of advertising its advantages, Mr. W. B. Tinsley, of the Paris Gas & Electric Co., is endeavoring to interest the merchants of Paris
in the establishment of a "White Way," similar to or better than that which is advertising Winchester so well. Mr. Tinsley is calling on the merchants this week to get their views on the matter, and it is earnestly hoped that they will respond generously to his proposition. It should be a matter of civic pride with our business men to have this scheme established, as it will mean a great deal to the business interests of the city. Give Mr. Tinsley a respectful hearing when he calls with his proposition, and then get busy on
"The Great White Way."

The New York Telegram says:
"Catesby Woodford, the well-known breeder of Paris, Ky., was at the races yesterday. He was accompanied by S. S. Yantis, a Lexington lawyer, and Robert Metcalfe, a Kentuckian, but now of New York. Mr. Woodford says he does not propose to hold any yearling colt sale this season. He has only three colts, by Nasturtium and wishes to sell these privately. There are very few yearlings now at Runnymede," said Mr. Woodford. "Perhaps it is as well there are so few, for the grass is all burned up."

FIRST CONVICTION UNDER NEW PISTOL TOTTING LAW.

Police Judge E. B. January sounded an emphatic warning to violators of the concealed weapon law, yesterday morning, when in his court he gave Robt. Jennings, a negro, a sentence of 10 days in jail, $50 and costs and disfranchisement for two years. He was arrested by Patrolman King on a concealed weapon charge. This was the first conviction of a "pistol totter" under the act passed by the recent session of the Legislature in which severe punishment was provided for the violators of the law. Under this law a second conviction on the same charge will mean disfranchisement of from one to five years. Judge January says he will in the future give every offender of this law brought before him the same dose.

AGRICULTURAL EXTENSION.

The Elm Trees About Kentucky in Danger From the Imported Leaf Beetle.

Inquiries are frequently coming to the Experiment Station with reference to the injuries of the elm leaf beetle on shade trees about Lexington and elsewhere in the State. The insect doing the mischief is a European species, imported a good many years ago to the eastern United States, and appearing in Kentucky about 1898, when it was noted as especially destructive at Bardonia, in Nelson County. It attacks by preference the European elm, but when hungry and European elm trees are not available sometimes spreads to the American elms and may then do them a good deal of mischief.

The adult of the insect is a small obscurely striped beetle belonging to the same family of insects as the common striped cucumber beetle. It passes the winter about buildings, hiding away in the fall in crevices next foundations, sometimes coming through doors and windows and hiding in dwellings. As soon as the leaves of the elm are developed the following spring, these beetles resort to the leaves, place their eggs there and then die. The young soon appear on the leaves, which they begin to feed upon, and if abundant will render the tree unsightly if they did not actually destroy all of the leafage before they become grown. They are most frequently noticed when they have completed their growth as worms or larvae and come down the trunk to undergo their changes on the ground beneath the trees.

They are at our mercy when they come to the ground in this fashion, and large numbers of them may be destroyed with scalding hot water or with coal oil. Traps are sometimes made of sticky fly paper so as to collect quantities of them and render their destruction more easy. If these insects at the foot of the tree are allowed to complete their changes they become beetles in short time and go back to produce another brood of worms. This continues throughout the summer, several broods being developed before fall.

It will be seen from this account that the insect is capable of destroying all of the leaves of a tree, and if this is permitted during the whole of one season, trees are very greatly weakened and begin to show signs of decline. They are sometimes killed outright by the insects when nothing is done to prevent.

While a good deal can be done by the treatment suggested, namely, destroying the insect when it comes down the trunk from the leaves, the most effective treatment is spraying the leaves as soon as the beetles begin to appear in the spring, with arsenate of lead, using three pounds of arsenate of lead paste in fifty gallons or about a barrel of water. A single spraying at this time will in ordinary cases serve to keep the trees from severe injury for the rest of the summer. This preparation must be applied by means of a force pump and spray nozzle. Pumps of sufficient strength and capacity to spray large elm trees may be bought from about twenty to thirty dollars. The hose necessary must be strong and of such length (fifty feet at least) that the one using the nozzle can climb up into the trees and to reach the topmost branches. Outfits of the sort needed for such spraying can be bought of the Deming Co., Salem, O.; or of the Goulds Manufacturing Co., Seneca Falls, N. Y.; or of a number of other similar manufacturing establishments. Any one with good muscles can operate these pumps. A barrel or two of the mixture ought to spray almost any of our elm trees. A single tree is worth several times the cost of a spraying outfit. The cost of treatment after this purchase is made is but slight.

Arsenate of lead may be bought of the Grasselli Chemical Company, of Cincinnati, O. Local druggists often keep it, or can order it.

In conclusion it may be suggested that some one in each community in the State can make for himself a useful occupation by getting a good spraying outfit and treating the shade and fruit trees of his neighbors. Owners of a few trees, and often owners of an orchard, will gladly pay for the services of some one equipped and competent to do this work for them.

ALL VOLCANOES ACTIVE ALONG ALASKAN COAST.

All the volcanoes along the Alaska Peninsula west of Seward to the Aleutian Islands are in action, according to a report brought by Capt. McMullen, of the steamship Dirigo, which arrived from Dutch Harbor.

Capt. McMullen said Mount Katmai, the great volcano on the mainland across Shelikof Strait from Kodiak Island, is throwing out great volumes of sulphur-laden smoke. The sea, he said, was discolored by sulphur dust and pumice for a distance of 100 miles.

Mount Shishaldin and Mount Paylof, the most active volcanoes in the Aleutian Islands, were smoking when the Dirigo passed them.

Capt. McMullen reported that the natives living along the Alaska Peninsula said the great clouds of volcanic dust hurled into the air last month were caused by volcanic eruptions and not by old deposits of volcanic ash stirred up by a terrific windstorm, as previously reported by passing ships.

THE EXPRESS IS IN THIS TOWN AND IN TO STAY

FOR seventy-five years—three-quarters of a century—the express has been the right-hand of the shippers of commercial America. The express came to Paris in 1854, and it came to stay. For 50 years it has been the right-hand of commercial Paris.

It is here to stay. The other day when reports went out that the express companies might retire from business, a protest went up. From whom this protest—the express companies? No! The merchants of the country—shippers everywhere—petitioned Congress that no action might be taken that might have the effect of forcing the express companies to retire. Commercial organizations all over the land have joined in this appeal to Washington.

For seventy-five years in the past and for a good many years in the future Express Service will mean

A MISTAKEN IDEA

There are some people who still resort to drugged pills or alcoholic syrups to overcome colds, nervousness or general debility, and who know that the pure, unadulterated nourishment in Scott's Emulsion is eminently better, but refrain from taking it because they fear it may lead to excessive fat or obesity.

This is a mistaken idea, because Scott's Emulsion first strengthens the body before making flesh. Its blood-forming properties aid nature to throw off sickness by building health from its very source, and flesh is formed only by its continued use. Avoid alcoholic substitutes for SCOTT'S.

Once in a while you will see a corn-fed girl on the street who gives you the idea that she made a mistake that morning and put on her little sister's skirt.

The High Cost of Living has shut off the supply of news items about men who were leading Double Lives and running two flats on one salary.
It has gotten so that a fellow is mighty lucky to be able to support his own wife.

What's the use of trying to be truthful? About the time you make up your mind to quit lying some girl will ask you to guess how old she is.

What has become of the old-fashioned preacher who hadn't any creases in his trousers and who got down on his knees when he prayed?

It is a mighty dull day that doesn't bring a married woman its "scolding" opportunity.

IMPORTANCE OF HEALTHY KIDNEYS.
Paris Readers Should Learn to Keep the Kidneys Well.

The kidneys have a big work to do.
All the blood in the body is coursing through the kidneys constantly to be freed of poisonous matter. It is a heavy enough task when the kidneys are well, but a cold, chills, fever or some thoughtless exposure is likely to irritate, inflame and congest the kidneys and interrupt the purifying work.

Then the aching frequently begins and is often accompanied by some irregularity of the urine—too frequent passages, sediment or retention.
Thousands testify to the wonderful merit of Doan's Kidney Pills, a remedy for the kidneys only, that has been used in kidney troubles 50 years.
You will make no mistake in following this Paris citizen's advice.

Mrs. Ida Huffman, 115 Main St., Paris, Ky., says: "We think Doan's Kidney Pills are just fine. We willingly confirm the statement we gave some time ago recommending them."
I suffered from pains across the small of my back. Seeing Doan's Kidney Pills advertised, I got a supply at Wilson's Drug Store and gave them a trial.
"I was very much pleased with the results."

Price 50c at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Pills—the same that Mrs.
Huffman had. Foster-Milburn Co.,

RULES FOR EXAMINATION OF RURAL TEACHERS.

The State Board of Education, Wednesday adopted rules governing the granting of certificates to teachers in the rural schools of Kentucky as provided by the act of the Legislature of 1914. The rules governing the granting of certificates to graduates of higher institutions of learning within and without the State to teach in the high schools provide that the applicant must be a graduate of standard college or university requiring a four-years school course for entrance. The standard curriculum must be maintained in such college or university if the graduate is admitted without examination to teach on the diploma.
The rules regarding the life certificate provide:

First. All applicants must have had at least twenty years' successful experience in public schools of greater value than a first class county certificate.

Second. No certificate will be granted except to applicants who have been actively engaged in teaching in Kentucky for the past five years.

Third. All applicants under this act must be in writing and on blanks supplied for that purpose.

Fourth. The age of the applicant must be given with the application.

Fifth. Persons who have held the office of county superintendent will be accepted as having taught for that period.

Sixth. All applicants will be required to give the State, county, town and place where schools have been taught and the date when each school was taught.

Seventh. A record of the date of each certificate held must be given and the name of the parties granting it.

Eighth. All applicants must give amount of special and professional work done, the names of colleges and normal schools attended, the degrees received and name of schools granting the degree, the names of and dates when professional books were read and any other information which will show progress and growth on the part of the applicant.

Ninth. Records of certificates received, of schools taught, college or normal school work done, should be properly certified by county superintendents and others where such records are kept.

BUILDING NEW LINES.

The old L. & N. line between Winchester and Paris which was abandoned in order to rebuild the road, is now being torn up. The rails and switches, it is said, will be used in the construction of more than 50 miles of branch lines between Winchester and McRoberts for the benefit of mine and timber owners who wish to ship their products. There is still an abundance of timber in some of the mountain counties and the various railroad extensions that are being made will put much of it on the markets. The L. & N. is doing some really valuable development work in Eastern Kentucky and as a consequence a lot of new towns are getting on the map.

CURED OF INDIGESTION.

Mrs. Sadie P. Clawson, Indiana, Pa., was bothered with indigestion. "My stomach pained me night and day," she writes. "I would feel bloated and have headache and belching after eating. I also suffered from constipation. My daughter had used Chamberlain's Tablets and they did her so much good that she gave me a few doses of them and insisted upon my trying them. They helped me as nothing else has done." For sale by all
